

Contaminants' path to the creek

Based on the levels of contaminants just upstream from Barton Springs Pool, experts suspect a pocket or pockets of underground contamination nearby. Here are two possible paths that pollutants may take, although no source has been determined:

